Rails Freelance Developer

hugo@guitton.dev hugo.guitton.dev github.com/hguitton France

ABOUT

Freelance Rails developer, eight years shipping web apps end-to-end. Conventions over cleverness, Hotwire over heavy SPAs, Postgres underneath. I write clean models, fast tests, and code the next person can read without flinching.

EXPERIENCE

Rails Freelance Developer — Independent

2018 – Present

REMOTE

I build and rescue Rails applications for startups and product teams — handling Rails 7 → 8 upgrades, Hotwire migrations away from heavy SPAs, REST API design, and helping early-stage teams ship MVPs fast.

Full-stack Rails Developer — Phiture

2021 – 2026

REMOTE

B.Layer: built and maintained a no-code mobile experience design tool that lets CRM and lifecycle teams create advanced in-app messages without developer support — pairing a WYSIWYG editor with an advanced mode for custom styling, so teams design and launch on-brand campaigns faster.

Junior Rails Developer — Luvotels

2018 – 2019

REMOTE

First role. Learned the fundamentals — Rails conventions, the safety of a green test suite — while building reservation systems where availability, timing, and concurrency actually mattered.

PERSONAL PROJECTS

Operf — SaaS

2025

A basketball scouting platform that lets clubs build and maintain their own player databases — tracking prospects, monitoring performance, and centralizing scouting intelligence in one place.

Sloty — Side project

2026

An online booking platform built for small service businesses, enabling them to accept and manage customer appointments directly through their own booking pages.
